Gender Equality Results Case Study: Sri Lanka-Improving Connectivity to Support Livelihoods and Gender Equality (Gender Equality Results Case Studies)

The Improving Connectivity to Support Livelihoods and Gender Equality project (JFPR 9143) sought to improve connectivity and quality of life of conflict-affected and isolated poor communities in selected districts of the Eastern and North Central provinces of Sri Lanka, and supported the rehabilitation of over 290 kilometers of rural access roads. Rehabilitated and improved rural roads are beneficial to women, girls, men, and boys, as travel becomes convenient, faster, and safer, with better access to social services, such as education and health care. Business owners can gain access to new markets for their products. However, given gender roles, relations, and inequalities, investments in rural roads result in different constraints and opportunities for women, girls, men, and boys.

Lucy Carson:

As a scholar exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher inquired them to go to the library as well as to make summary for some book, they are complained. Just tiny students that has reading's heart and soul or real their interest. They just do what the professor want, like asked to go to the library. They go to generally there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that looking at is not important, boring along with can't see colorful photos on there. Yeah, it is to become complicated. Book is very important to suit your needs.
